

Election Infrastructure Classified Briefing Agenda
Wednesday, December 6, 2023 | 1:00pm – 2:30pm ET

Election stakeholders are invited to a SECRET-level classified briefing with CISA, DHS Intelligence & Analysis, FBI, and other Intelligence Community partners on the threats Russia poses to elections. Briefers will explore Russia's strategic intent and capability and outline tactics, techniques, and procedures (TTPs), strategic aims, and goals of Russian activity in this space. The intent of this briefing is to deepen the understanding of the election community on the threats posed by Russian threat actors and how those might manifest in election jurisdictions across the country.

Welcome and Introductions

Briefing from FBI Cyber Division

Briefing from DHS Intelligence & Analysis

Briefing from FBI Foreign Influence Task Force

Questions

Specific topics covered:

- Intent and capabilities of Russian cyber actors and the threat to election infrastructure
- Classified analysis of both recent and historic cyber activity targeting U.S. critical infrastructure
- Case studies of Russian cyber targeting in Ukraine
- The Russia Playbook for foreign malign influence (FMI)
 - The spectrum of influence activity, overview of activity observed during 2022, and FBI's perspective on the threat
 - How Russia targets the United States
 - Key Actors, Vectors, and Objectives
 - Current observed activity
 - Potential uses of AI